Environment or Economy: a False Dichotomy

Dr Steve Hatfield-Dodds

Steve is one of Australia's leading thinkers on sustainability, climate change and environmental policy.

Stewardship involves the nurture and protection of assets that underpin our future wellbeing including our economic, social and natural capital. Steve will argue that decisive action on climate change is a pro-growth strategy, and that failing to reduce emissions poses the greater risks to growth and prosperity over the long term.

Chair: Dr David Hunter

Tuesday 20 October 7:30 pm

Australian Centre for Christianity and Culture
