"Climate Change Denial" Twisting Language?

Dr Haydn Washington Environmental scientist and activist

Co-author of recently published 'Climate Change Denial: Heads in the Sand', Haydn has worked as an Investigations Scientist for the CSIRO and as an environmental consultant. He has been Director of the Nature Conservation Council of NSW and as a councillor of the Australian Conservation Foundation. He asks:

- Is denial just healthy scepticism by another name?
- How is it that belief has waned as the science has firmed?
- How common is denial - do we let it prosper?
- What role has manipulation of language played in the new denial?
